

Rate Schedule

J. Watson, Jr., president of the Public Power Company, announced today that revisions of the company's rate schedules have been approved by the Public Service Commission to become effective October 1. These revisions, all of which the reduction will result in savings of approximately $300,000 to the company's customers in the fall.

Commenting on this, Mr. Watson said: "Although the saving to an individual customer, in many instances, may be small, any reduction during these inflationary times is completely contrary to the trend of the cost of living. Like all other individuals and businesses, we have experienced continued major increases in the price of equipment, supplies, wages, and taxes. It is, therefore, particularly gratifying that in spite of these circumstances we are able to reduce the price of electric service."

"Although fuel prices have continued upward, increased efficiencies obtained from the installation of larger generating units and other facilities plus use of the most recent technological advances in the fields of production, trans-

Each boy who attends the school is sponsored by a local civic club, business, or individual who defrays his expense. The Hancock County boys are being sponsored by Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Sam Whittlefield, Bay St. Louis, Waveland Garden Club and Hancock Bank, Bay St. Louis.

The schools are sponsored by the Mississippi Forestry Association, an organization of individuals and companies interested in wise use of the state's forest and related resources. This is the nineteenth annual session.

Lectures and field work are combined to give the youngsters practical instruction in such subjects as tree planting, forest fire control, social sampling and wildlife management. Instructors are furnished by the Illinois Central Railroad, Experiment Station, Mississippi International Paper Company, Miss Extension Service, Mississippi Forestry Commission and U.S. Forest Service. Also serving on the est are personnel of GM & O Railroad and Vocational department.

Each day's schedule includes spiritual and moral training as well as recreational periods. Some 175 youngsters from about 60 of the state's hill counties attend the school each year.

Mississippi 14th Among States Scoring 85 Per Cent In Traffic Safety

Mississippi is among 14 states to attain scores of 85 per cent or better in the driver licensing section of the National Safety Council-sponsored 1959 Annual Inventory of Traffic Safety Activities.

Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton stated that he received a letter August 2 from L. S. Harris, executive director of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrations, advising that Mississippi had again been singled out for an AAMVA Achievement Award on basis of the inventory score. In 1959 Mississippi's driver licensing and control program was scored at fourth in the nation.

Harris' letter stated that the award was being given Mississippi against his year "in recognition of progress made toward achieving the recommended minimum standards for driver licensing control and regulations."

He cautioned that the award "should not be interpreted to pertain to achievement of the desired maximum standards in this field," explaining that in the past such interpretations have caused serious problems for a few administrator in obtaining adequate laws, funds, personnel, etc., needed for further progress.

According to Commissioner Shel-

the award will be made at a date to be announced later.

JAYCEES SELL STYRA-SOIL

A patented synthetic soil which has been treated to eliminate souring and odors, and used to grow indoor plants will be sold by the Jaycees and Jayettes Saturday, August 13, at local business establishments.

This unusual soil, which comes in several different colors, is highly decorative and completely eliminates the use of dirt. Only a small amount of water is necessary for foliage plants to grow and thrive.

Clear glass containers without drainage are used which makes the plants highly decorative and attractive.

Jaycees and Jayettes will be on hand all day Saturday at the following business establishments for the purpose of selling this unusual product at 98¢ a bag: Haverly's IGA, Waveland; C. & S. Gro.; Scharff's Jitney Jungle and Winn-Dixie in Bay St. Louis.

Mississippi Traffic Deaths Dropped Sharply During Month Of July

Mississippi's traffic death rate dropped sharply during July for the first time this year.

According to Mississippi Highway Patrol, the July decline in accidents does not mean that the overall yearly toll is behind that of last year.

"Mississippi is still 63 traffic deaths ahead of the corresponding 1959 death count," Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton said.

"But we do feel that the present reduction in our fatal accident rate is a good omen and will continue as the state's traffic safety program gains momentum." Radar has been used extensively by the Highway Patrol during the past four months, and, during July, statewide roadblocks to check licenses and vehicle lighting equipment were employed by the Patrol.

In addition to speed and equipment violations the Patrol is presently concentrating on the four major causes of state accidents: following too closely, improper passing, failure to yield right-of-way, and improper turning.

Analysis of 1960 motor vehicle accidents conducted recently by Chief of Patrol Dave Gayden's office show these four violations to be leading accident causes.

Commissioner Shelton and Chief Gayden have instructed state Highway Patrolmen "to stay out on the highways" in an all out effort to reduce Mississippi accident rate still further.

"The July reduction the first monthly drop to date this year, can be repeated in August," Shelton said. "The Highway Patrol intends to enforce state laws fairly and impartially, but we need the cooperation of the motoring public if accidents are to be curbed."

CITY PROGRAM
BOOST MISSISSIPPI
ECONOMIC GROWTH

Section 111a—The Mississippi Forestry Association, which conducted with "an effective forest program which will boost Mississippi's economic growth" has had Governor Barwell full cooperation in conducting a fair and impartial investigation of charges against State Forester C. W. Marlin.

At the request of Ralph S. Taggart, MFA president, a group of forestry association directors made a study of the Mississippi Forestry Commission's programs, especially fire control, forest management and nursery programs, they are making their findings public in a series of newspaper articles.

The Assn. representing some 3,000 small timberland owners, farmers, forest industries and other companies and professional foresters is on record as "commanding the excellent work of Marlin," according to Taggart, "and the sound progress the commission has made during his years as state forester."

B. C. Allen, Philadelphia, a MFA director reporting on the Commission's East Central District, said that the district is in the "best shape" it has ever been. The district has shown great progress in all phases of forestry during Marlin's term of office, Allen said, especially in fire prevention and control. Allen is chief forester, DeWeese Lumber Company, Philadelphia, past president, Mississippi Forestry Association; and chairman, Gulf States Section, Society of American Foresters.

The MFC East Central district is made up of Attala, Webster, Choctaw, Oktibbeha, Lowndes, Winston, Monroe, Leake, Neshoba, Kemper, Scott, Newton, Lauderdale, Smith, Tishomingo and Clarke Counties. It should be noted that the entire state saw an increase in the number of fire control towers (43 erected throughout the state), more than three-man fire crews added during the fire season, and the addition of heavy and medium fire-fighting equipment—all of which resulted in a new record in fire losses.

In the past four years, in the East Central district, as well as throughout the state, the number of timbered and uncultivated acres brought under the Commission's fire control protection increased, Allen added. Statewide more than 553,000 acres were added during the past four years, bringing the state's total to 16,956,000 from a then record 14,361,000 acres. Fire losses were minimal, he said, with the best fire records in the history of the forestry commission set during the past four years. Losses were below one half of one percent during two years and below three-quarters of one percent the other two years.

Allen pointed out that during Marlin's years as state forester, 11 new counties were brought under the commission's forest fire control program, leaving only 12 counties in the state unprotected. All but three of the 15 in the East Central district are covered, Neshoba and its 237.00 acres having been added this year.

"We, like every one of the six districts of the forestry commission, have a truck and tractor unit of the medium or heavy class for emergency use," Allen said.

"The commission had in operation at the end of the 1959-60 fire season, nine heavy tractor-trailor units, 197-in. in plan. Plans are underway for the commission to furnish each county with at least one medium unit to replace lighter

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol reports that more than 2,000 motor vehicle accidents were reported to its Safety Responsibility Bureau during July and only about half the vehicles involved were covered by liability insurance.

Under Mississippi's amended Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law which went into effect July 1, owners of the remaining uninsured vehicles, approximately 45 per cent of the total, will be required to establish and to maintain proof of financial responsibility against future accidents for five years, in addition to depositing security for the immediate accident.

Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton has again appealed to state automobile owners and drivers "to know your new Safety Responsibility Law."

Uninsured motorists involved in traffic accidents will find many headaches await them when they attempt to comply with provisions of the act "after the accident."

The Highway suggests that uninsured drivers and owners involved in collisions since July 1 immediately take steps to establish proof of financial responsibility since it is mandatory that their licenses be suspended within 60 (60) days from the date of the accidents if such proof is established. "Protect your driving privilege," Commissioner Shelton cautions.

Proof of financial responsibility for future accidents may be established by depositing $15,000, by making Surety Bond, or by liability insurance coverage, perhaps the far more practical of the three.

Competitive Examinations
Of Miss. Employment
Security Commission Open

Announcement is made by the Merit System Supervisor of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission that competitive examinations are being held for the position of Employment Interviewer. Applications will be received from male candidates only at this time.

The date for scheduled examinations is September 10, 1960. Closing date for receiving applications is August 27, 1960. Examinations will be held in Hattiesburg, Jackson, Mississippi State University and Oxford.

Applicants for Employment Interviewer can qualify if graduates of a standard four-year college. Certain experience as explained in full announcement may be substituted for college work on a year by year basis.

Complete announcement with full information may be obtained from any local Employment Service Office or by writing Merit System Supervisor, P. O. Box 1726, Jackson, Mississippi.

ADMITTED TO MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY

State College, Miss.—Three freshmen and transfer students from Hancock County have been admitted to Mississippi State University for the Fall Semester beginning September 12.

They are as follows: Bay St. Louis, James Richard Shadoin and Thomas Michael Ward; Waveland, James Francis Shippey.

WOOL PAYMENTS FOR 1959 ARE NOW BEING MADE

A total of $1,044.69 has been paid so far to Hancock County wool growers in the form of payments earned in the national wool program for the 1959 marketing year, according to Pat M. Rogers of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The payments now being made were earned on marketings of wool and unshorn lambs during the year from April 1, 1959, through March 31, 1960.

On shorn wool the rate of payment is 43.2 percent of the grower's net proceeds from wool marketing, or $43.20 per $100 received. For unshorn lambs, the rate is 85 cents per hundred weight for the live weight of lambs sold.

There's a deduction from each grower's payment to provide a fund used in promoting the sale of wool and lambs. This deduction, authorized by growers in a referendum, amounts to one cent a pound for shorn wool and 5 cents a hundredweight for unshorn lambs.

The wool program, authorized by the National Wool Act, is designed to increase the annual wool output of the United States to a total of 300,000,000 pounds. This is done by means of incentive payments which bring the average price received by growers from wool to 82 cents per pound.

Payments are now being made on applications received up to May 1, 1960. The 1960 marketing year will continue until March 31, 1961, and payments for marketings during that period will be made next summer.

USE CAUTION WITH SPRAYS

As we watch the spread of plant diseases and the build up of insect numbers, we prepare to fight these enemies of our crops and gardens, our herds and flocks. At the same time our agronomists, entomologists and livestock specialists remind us to be careful with all chemicals and sprays. Read the labels, follow the manufacturer's instructions, and measure ingredients accurately. In the case of livestock follow recommendations as to type, age and condition of animals treated. Use prescribed methods of administering materials, and keep containers away from the reach of children.

Always read the label on the container before you use the pesticide; note warnings and cautions. Keep the material in its original container. Keep the containers out of reach of children, pests and irresponsible people. Store them in locked cupboards.

Avoid smoking while dusting or spraying. Many of the chemicals are flammable.

If you suddenly feel sick while using a pesticide, or shortly afterward, call your family doctor immediately.

Always dispose of empty containers so they won't be a hazard to people or animals.

Your safety in using a chemical doesn't depend on its toxicity alone. It depends on how carefully you handle it. How often you use it. And how much and how long you expose yourself to it.

SAFETY NOTES

Listen carefully to your doctor's instructions concerning reactions to medicine. Notify him if you think you or your patient is having a reaction.

At night when taking medicine, use an alarm clock for correct time. Turn on light. Get up to wake up. Read label to be sure you have the right medicine. Write it down.

Keep all medicine out of reach of small children.

If you plan to keep certain medicines, make sure they are out of reach of children.

Wanda-Villere Wedding

Announced At St. Clare's

Patricia Therese Villere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Waveland, became the bride of Mr. David Lloyd Gareau, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gareau, of Mont Harbor, Saturday, at the Catholic Church.

M. J. Costello, pastor, presided at the 11 a. m. ceremony, and the altar was decorated with white and greenery and white.

A program of nuptial music was played by the church choir. The bride wore a gown of white, bordered lace over net. The bouffant skirt featured ruffles of lace and net, in a chapel train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a lace neckline embellished with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, long sleeves ending in points at her hands.

The finger-tip veil of illusion was by a diara of iridescent sequins and small crystal beads. She carried a bouquet of fleur d'amour centered with a white orange.

Miss Geraldine Bourgeois, maid of honor, wore a powder blue chiffon, ballerina length dress, small matching hat and veil and bouquet of gladioli.

Flowermaids, Misses Carol Bourgeois, Peggy Garcia and Dianne Manning, wore ballerina length dresses in shades of orchid, pink and rose with matching headpieces and bouquets of gladioli.

Bride, Mrs. L. Gareau, flower girl, wore a blue silk organza and carried a basket of blue gladioli.

Paula Jean Leinen, ring bearer, who alighted in a white organza dress similar to that of the bride and carried a fleur d'amour bouquet.

Claude Gareau served as best man. Groomsmen were Frank Peterson, Jr., Robert Peterson and Donald Blanchard. John V. Peterson and Edward Collier, Rod Villere, his junior groomsman, Mr. Villere received their guests wearing an aqua silk organza gown and white accessories. Mrs. Garcia, mother of the groom, chose blue Chantilly lace with matching hat and white accessories, corsages of fleur d'amour completed their ensemble.

A reception was held at the Parish Hall following the ceremony. The bride's table covered in lace over satin was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake encircled with fleur d'amour and fern, candelabra holding white tapers and arrangements of tuberose on either side.

For traveling the bride wore a suit of red plaid cotton trimmed with a large white collar, matching hat and black patent accessories.

On their return from a wedding trip in Florida the couple will make their home in New Orleans.

Mrs. James Finch of Hattiesburg was a guest Monday of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Hause.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Johnson returned Sunday from Vicksburg, Miss., where they attended the Miss Mississippi pageant in which their daughter Carol participated as Miss Bay St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Phillips, the former Jackie Quintini and six children of Moorehead, have rented a cottage in Waveland for a month's vacation.

Mrs. James Hancock spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Eb Tyner at Baxterville. Her father is recovering from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. George DiBenedetto returned Saturday from a vacation of several days in Panama City, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sciaana and sons, Chuck, Stephen, Kenneth and Miss Udel Favre will leave Friday morning for Atlanta, Ga., where they will be the guests over the weekend of their brother Gregory of the ATLANTA JOURNAL.

Miss Martha Carr was the weekend guest of Miss Jeannine Checere in Opelousas, La.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Spotorno had a surprise visit from their son, George, of Memphis, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Whelan Culley of Memphis, have returned home after a two weeks visit with their parents, the B. S. Spotornos.

Rev. Michael Kelly officiated at the ceremony.

White floral arrangements decorated the main and side altars and palms and baskets of white blossoms were on either side.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of magenta white taffeta.

The fitted bodice was fashioned with a round neckline and three-quarter length sleeves trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The bouffant skirt swept into a chapel length train. Her heirloom Duchesse veil of illusion was worn mantilla style and she carried lilies of the valley and stephanotis center ed with a white orchid.

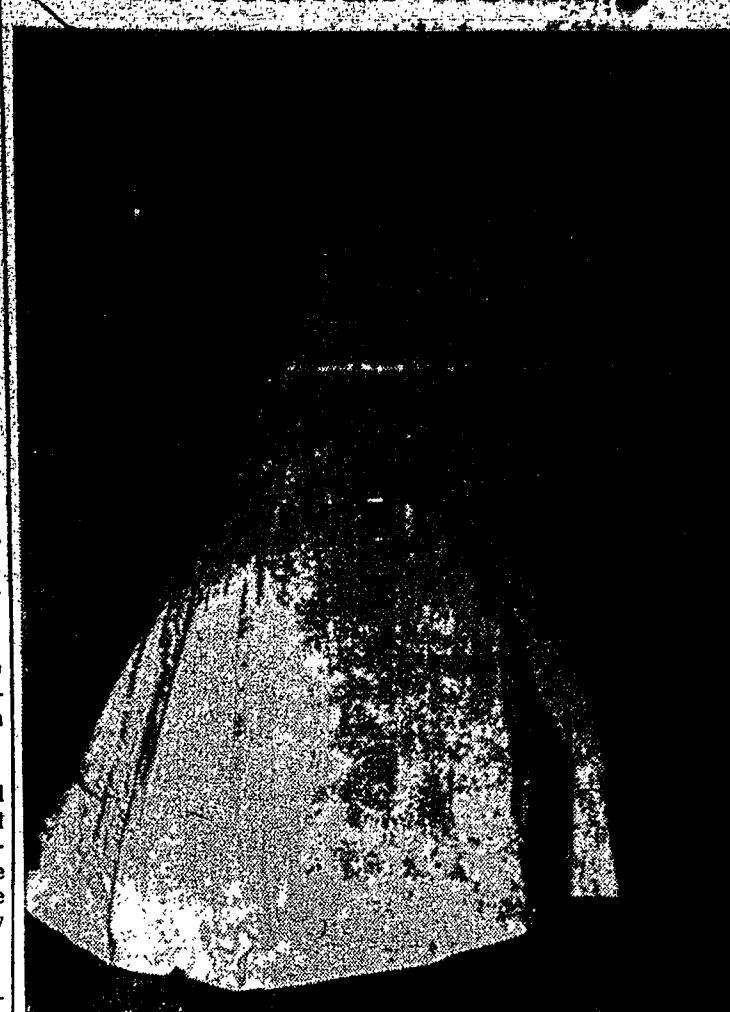

Mrs. Paul F. Kavanagh of Baton Rouge, La. was her sister's matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. J. Armond Cobb, cousin of the bride and Miss Adele Gaudet, both of New Orleans and Eileen Cavanagh, junior bridesmaid.

They wore identical frocks of Nile green silk organza featuring patio-length two-tiered full skirts, fitted bodices with scooped necklines and short sleeves.

Mrs. Kavanagh carried a bouquet of garnet roses and the other attendants carried pink sweethearts roses. They wore matching headpieces.

Mr. Rodney P. McInnis, served as his brother's best man and

McInnis-Sullivan Wedding

Miss Elizabeth Carey Sullivan, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Edmund Carey Sullivan, became the bride of Mr. Irby Neil McInnis, Jr., son of Mrs. Irby McNeil McInnis, Sr. and the late Mr. McInnis of Gulfport, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Spotorno had a surprise visit from their son, George, of Memphis, Sunday.

"Polynesian Coming To Legion Theatre Soon At Gulfport, Miss.

Miss Wyman, speaking of her new role as "Aunt Polly" in Walt Disney's "The Sound of Music," says, "I believe, however, that it will probably be the most interesting part she has ever undertaken," including her Academy Award-winning performance in "Gone With The Wind."

She had no "gimmicks" working for her in the role, such as in "Gone With The Wind," where she enacted the part of a gaunt, deformed "Aunt Polly," Miss Wyman was called upon to portray the tradition-bound, unloved and feared social, civic and economic leader of the small American town of Grafton. Yet at the same time of a certain yearning to love, to be understood, had to show through the facade, and yet not take away from her outward sternness.

"Polynesian" is coming soon to the Legion Theatre, Gulfport.

"It wasn't easy," she says.

Director David Swift, while agreeing that the role was particularly different, comments: "When you find a finer actress than Miss Wyman, let me know. Her rendition of the aunt Polly part is a masterpiece."

"Polynesian" stars Miss Wyman, Richard Egan, Karl Malden, Nancy Olson, Adolphe Menjou, Donald Crisp, Agnes Moorehead, Kevin Corcoran, and presents, in the title role, Miss Hayley Mills, 14-year-old daughter of English actor John Mills, in her first American film.

David Swift wrote the screenplay as well as directed the film version of Eleanor H. Porter's famous beloved story of the sparkling young girl who turned a town upside down with her ability to see the bright side of things. The feature film is released by Buena Vista.

HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Chinese lanterns decorated the dining room and a pink and white cake topped with a doll dressed as a cow-girl centered the table when Gerianne Nelson celebrated her fourth birthday Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Nelson.

Attending the party were Charlotte Ann, Charlene, Marie, Cynthia Ann and Harold Stiglett, Jr., Joan Marie Nease, Timmy Favre, Cindy Marie Penton, Beverly, Dolores and Debbie Sherman, Greg Richardson, Eddie Richardson, Alma Serpas, Randy Dergeron, Clarence Green, Elaine Marie Nease, John Edward Nease.

The bride wore for her daughter's wedding an old rose color lace sheath, fashioned with cap sleeves and a square neckline. White accessories, a close fitting hat of iridescent and a corsage of pink rosebuds completed her attire.

Mrs. McInnis, mother of the bride, chose a dress of sky blue lace and chiffon over taffeta. Her accessories were white and her corsage was white roses.

The bridegroom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. J. Luisich, who was also in the receiving line, wore a blue sheath with a lace jacket of summer crepe and corsage of white roses.

The bride wore for traveling a Nile green silk faille suit, bone-colored accessories, small hat of varying shades of beige leaves and a white orchid corsage.

On their return from a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. McInnis will reside in Fort Benning, Ga., for a short time before going to Europe where they will be stationed for three years while Mr. McInnis is on military duty.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Kavanagh of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Hillery, Mr. and Mrs. John V. Gaudet, Miss Adele Gaudet, Mr. and Mrs. Julian S. Hillery, Mr. and Mrs. J. Armond Cobb, Mrs. R. H. Tuckett, Miss V. H. DeShields, Miss Inez Luxich, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, Mrs. Tully Liddell, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sutton, New Orleans. Rev. and Mrs. Fred Thompson of Petal, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinn, Miss Rhoda Gonzales, Mr. W. H. Warren of Pensacola, Fla., and Capt. B. E. Berry of Washington D. C.

MISSISSIPPI HAS MANY VACATION SPOTS

There are many vacation spots in Mississippi where there are ample recreation facilities for the entire family. Known far and wide for its lovely twenty-six mile stretch of white sand beach that stretches from Bay St. Louis eastward to Ocean Springs, the Mississippi Gulf Coast has for decades been a favorite summer vacation spot. Scattered from the Tennessee line, south to the Gulf Coast, are fourteen State Parks. Among other attractions for the vacationer are the historical sites and the fairs and tournaments.

It's baseball time now, and in many cities and towns, boys and girls find it just a bit more convenient to play ball in the streets. Keep your eyes alert for playing children and when driving through residential districts, obey the speed laws. Don't be the cause of a youngster's death.
